

Legal Calls at Naval Station Guantanamo Bay (NSGB)

Overview

U.S. Immigrations and Customs Enforcement (ICE) detention standards require that noncitizens in ICE custody be allowed confidential contact with legal representatives. To facilitate improved access to legal representatives, ICE has implemented a scheduling process for legal calls at Naval Station Guantanamo Bay (JTF Camp Six and Migrant Ops Center Main A).

Procedures for legal calls at NSGB:

- If the legal representative represents a detainee, a G-28 should be filed through EROeFile.
- As with in-person legal visitation:
 - The legal representative will be required to provide appropriate identification, such as a bar card from any state or other available documentation demonstrating bar membership, prior to the scheduled call.
 - Only legal representatives, legal assistants, and interpreters will be allowed; no family or friends of the clients are permitted.
 - The legal representative may contact outside interpretation services during the call or session.
- To ensure confidentiality of communications between detained non-citizens and legal representatives, an officer will facilitate the call. Visual monitoring will be required to maintain safety and security of everyone at the facility.

Please be advised that legal representatives and their staff are not permitted to record during any legal call with detainees at the facility. Any violation of these rules may result in suspension or a permanent revocation of scheduling privileges.
